REGULATION OF PRIZE OF WOMEN'S ARCHITECTS

ARVHA

PRIZE OF WOMEN'S ARCHITECTS

°°°

GENERAL REGULATION

ARVHA was formed in 1993 by architects in France. It is an association under the law 1901 whose aim is to do research, carry out studies and provide training in the field of housing and built environment. Since 1995 it organises training courses for architects in various areas such as disabled access, sustainable development, architecture, urban renewal– with the support of the Ministry of Culture and Communication, the Ministry of Women's Rights, the city of Paris, and the Pavillon de l'Arsenal. It organized three international exhibitions and three website dedicated to women's architects. A recent study in 2012 was about equality in the architects profession and came up with 10 proposals with one of them aimed at highlighting the place of women in architectural practice.

The results of this study on equality men/women has ARVHA to organize the Women in Architecture Award 2020 and started in 2013.

The Ministry of Culture and Communication, The Ministry of Women's Rights, the Pavillon de l'Arsenal and the National Council of the Order of Architects support this project.

This Prize is open to women architects in France who have built or practice in France, with the condition they are registered with French Order of Architects and are the author of the projects that are presented.

A new category opens in 2017 to architects, who are not French, don't practice in France and are registered in their own countries and with proof. We thank our European partners to help us in this project: "Donne Architetto" in Italy founded by Fulvia Fagotto, "Women Architecture" in Slovakia by Andrea Klimko, the Network "Women in Architecture" founded by Angela Brady in England and with Anna schabel now, the german network the Spanish network etc

This Prize aims to honour the quality of the architectural conception of the projects and the careers of women architects, with the corollary to make easier the recognition of the part played by women in the field of Architecture and construction industry in France and in Europe especially.

This Prize aims to highlight the works and careers of women architects in order to inspire young women architects through role models and to encourage equality.

The present document defined the general framework of the rules.
